The State Capitol Building

TO the members of the Forty-third General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, who, on the fiftieth anniversary of the making of the first appropriation for the University, so clearly perceived its undeveloped resources and marvelous potentialities and so generously sought to provide for its present needs and its future development, we respectfully dedicate the 1921 Razorback. We appreciate what this legislation means to the University and to the State; and we offer to these far-sighted men our sincerest expression of gratitude and our highest tribute of honor and esteem.

FOREWORD

TO give a picture of Arkansas during the past school year—to put into some permanent form the stories of our work, our activities, our organizations—to give to the people of our State a glimpse into the workings of their great institution—these have been the purposes of "Everybody's Razorback." It is our hope not only that it may be the source of pleasant reminiscences of the days spent at the University of Arkansas, but that it may also help to stimulate, during the coming years, an ever increasing spirit of loyalty to our University of the Future and a greater pride in it.

Alma Mater

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty
Watches thy Soul from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed
Far from the land where thy footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true,
From those who adore unto one who adores us
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.

We, with our faces turned high to the eastward,
Proud of our place in the vanguard of Truth,
Will sing unto thee a new song of thanksgiving,
Honor to God and the Springtime of Youth,
Shout for the victor or tear for the vanquished,
Sunshine or tempest thy heart is e'er true;
Pride of the hills and the white-laden lowlands,
Mother of Mothers, we kneel unto you.

Ever the legions of sin will assail us,
Ever the battles in cities afar;
Still in the depths will thy spirit eternal
Beckon us on like a piloting star.
Down the dim years do thy dead children call thee;
Wafted to sleep while the springtime was new;
We of the Present, thy Hope of the Future,
Mother of Mothers, we pray unto you.

The

University of Arkansas

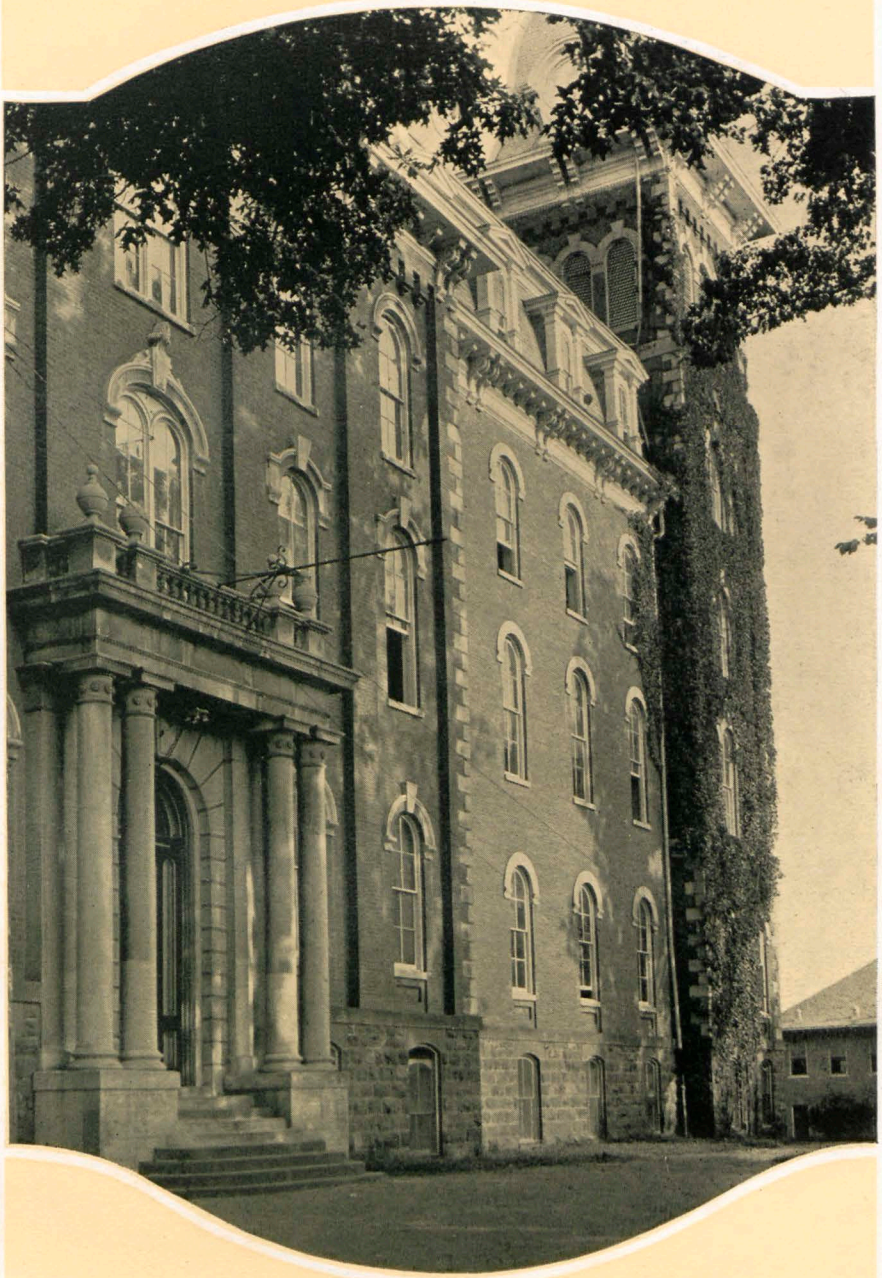

will next year celebrate its fiftieth anniversary of continuous service to the people of the State. Its graduates have gone into every state in the union and into foreign countries, and everywhere they have brought fame and honor to their home-land. It is our hope that this book may create in them a new and greater love for their Alma Mater and bring them back for the Great Homecoming in 1922.

This shaded walk, the central channel of Arkansas life, leads one across one of the most beautiful natural campuses in the United States.

A reminder of the S. A. T. C. days at Arkansas, the "Y" Hut is now a place which the Gregson smile and the Gregson welcome have made the scene of many of our most enjoyable festivities.

"Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true,
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you."

When December nights enlarge
By stealing from the day its hours;
The wint'ry clouds their storms discharge
Upon our pines and towers.

"Down the dim years do thy dead children call thee,
Wafted to sleep while the Springtime was new;
We, of the Present, thy hope of the Future,
Mother of Mothers, we pray unto you."

Within these vine-clad walls our modern agriculturists are doing their part in the making of a greater University and a greater State.

Silently, yet steadily, and with little or no publicity, the chemist transmutes base earths for the profit of mankind, and turns dross to gold by the Promethean fire of science.

Out from Peabody Hall go the men and women upon whom much of the future greatness and usefulness of the University must depend; they must strengthen its foundation by building up the public school system of the State.

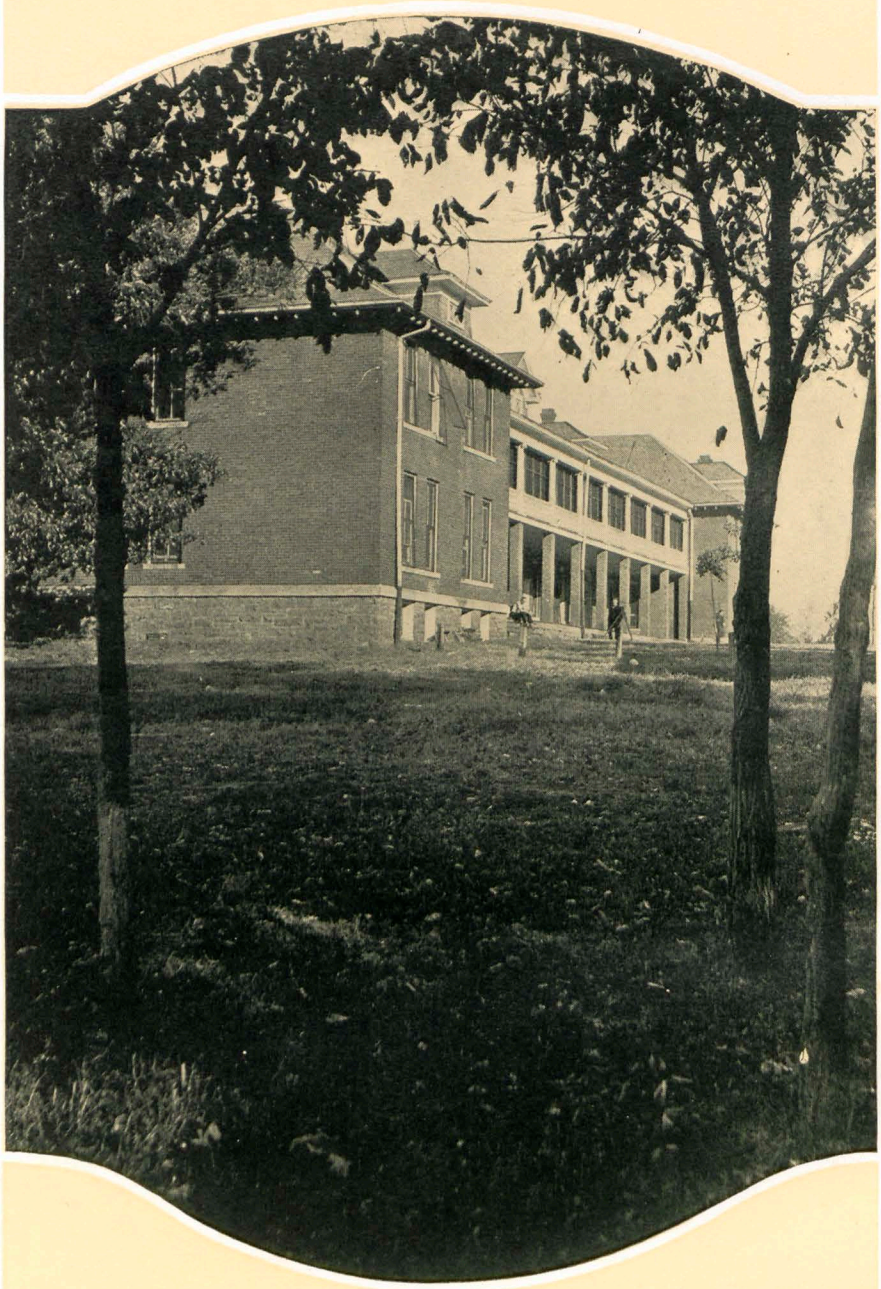

The sight of Carnall Hall awakens in our minds scores of pleasant memories and reminds us of the gay, fine spirit, the broad vision, and the dignity of Arkansas women.

The engineer has pushed America into the forefront of the industrial world; he has given us the physical comforts of civilization; and he has taught us to build strong if we would succeed in the complex world of today.

The oldest of the three men's dormitories, Buchanan Hall is loved by thousands of loyal sons of Arkansas because of the history with which it is connected.

Having learned first to laugh at the ungraceful symmetry of Gray Hall, Arkansas men have come at last to love it because of its history and to appreciate its honest solidity as a symbol of the true spirit of Arkansas.

Hill Hall, erected in 1901, and named in honor of that gallant Confederate soldier, General David H. Hill, former President of the University, is the social center of the dormitories.

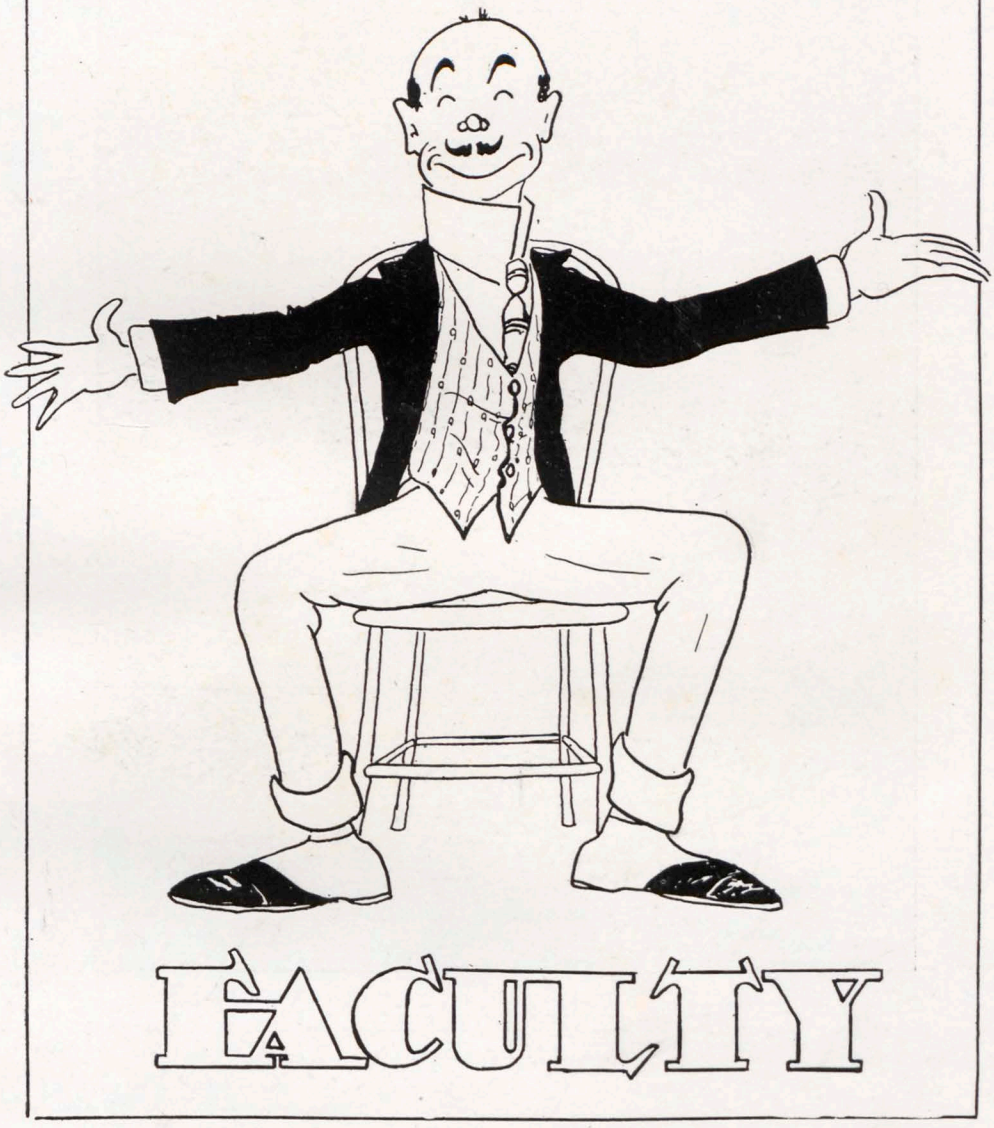

For nearly fifty years weary students and love-sick spirits have rested on the Spoofer's Stone; and future generations of Arkansas men and women will look upon it with affection because of the memories it revives.

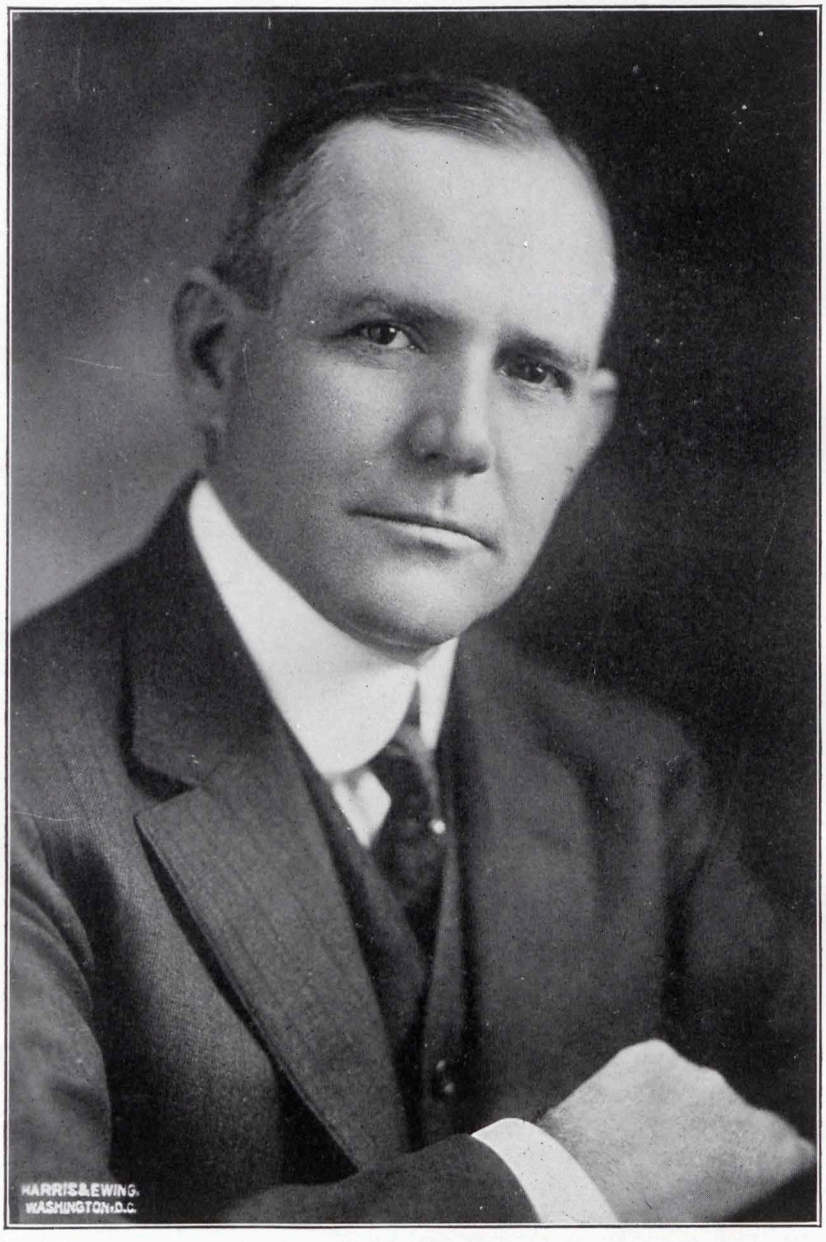

With its old rock wall, its arching trees and its flag-stone walk, Lovers' Lane has long been the retreat of Arkansas students; it holds a place in their affections second only to the Spoofer's Stone.

"Ever the legions of sin will assail us,
Ever the battle in cities afar;
Still in the depths will thy spirit eternal
Beckon us on like a piloting star."

FACULTY

JOHN CLINTON FUTRALL, M. A.
President of the University

PRESIDENT JOHN CLINTON FUTRALL for eight years has devoted himself without reserve to the making of a Greater University. No man has a broader vision or a higher ideal for the future of the institution. He has laid the broad foundations for the Arkansas of tomorrow; he has attracted to the institution men of national standing and recognized ability; and he has made it not only a vital factor in the life of the State but has brought it into national prominence. He has worked for building up the University, struggling with financial embarrassments and often with the most bitter opposition.

He has been with us and behind us, and stands ready at all times to lend his influence to any undertaking which has our ultimate good for its object. We cannot show our appreciation of his services by mere words. In our deeds, rather, in our loyal support, in our zeal for the fulfillment of his plans, must lie the proofs of our admiration and esteem.

The College of Engineering

It is the aim of the College of Engineering to give a broad, thorough training in Mathematics and the physical sciences with the application of these subjects to the fundamental and special branches of engineering science.

Technical work leading to a Bachelor's degree in Engineering is given in six departments, The curriculum covers work in Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Civil Engineering on Highways, Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Mining Engineering. Courses giving more specialized training are selected within these departments. Short courses, completed in two years, are offered in addition to the regular four-year courses.

The College of Arts and Sciences

The importance of the College of Arts and Sciences and its function in the work of the University has not become less with the growth of the other colleges. If it is no longer the entire fort built by the State to protect its youth against the forces of ignorance, it is still the citadel, and a weakness here means a weakness in the entire system. The fact that the College of Arts and Sciences has remained the center of the University and that it is still the most important division is strong testimony to the value of its work.

George W. Droke

The College of Education

The College of Education, as its name implies, has as its function the training of teachers. It conceives the school problem as the basis of all the other problems with which the state is confronted, whether industrial, judicial, financial, social, or cultural.

Success always may best be measured by results. The requests for teachers trained by the College of Education is now more than six times the number so trained. Not only is it training those teachers who come to the University, but also those who can be reached by extension work. This year more than a dozen correspondence courses are being given. Regular classes are being taught in four centers off the campus. One of the most complete surveys of a city school system ever attempted is being made this year in Ft. Smith, and aid is being given the school authorities of four other states who are making surveys of their schools.

J. R. Jewell

The College of Agriculture

To acquire knowledge through scientific investigation, to train men and women for useful service in Agriculture and Home Economics, and to disseminate practical information among the rural people which will aid them in solving their problems—these are the main functions of the College of Agriculture. It touches, by its intimate service, every part of the rural life of the farming people of the state—production, marketing, organization, protection, and home life.

Through the various members of its staff it is reaching more than 150,000 farm families and its meetings are attended by more than 500,000 people. Its campus extends to the boundaries of the State and its experiments are conducted in half of the counties.

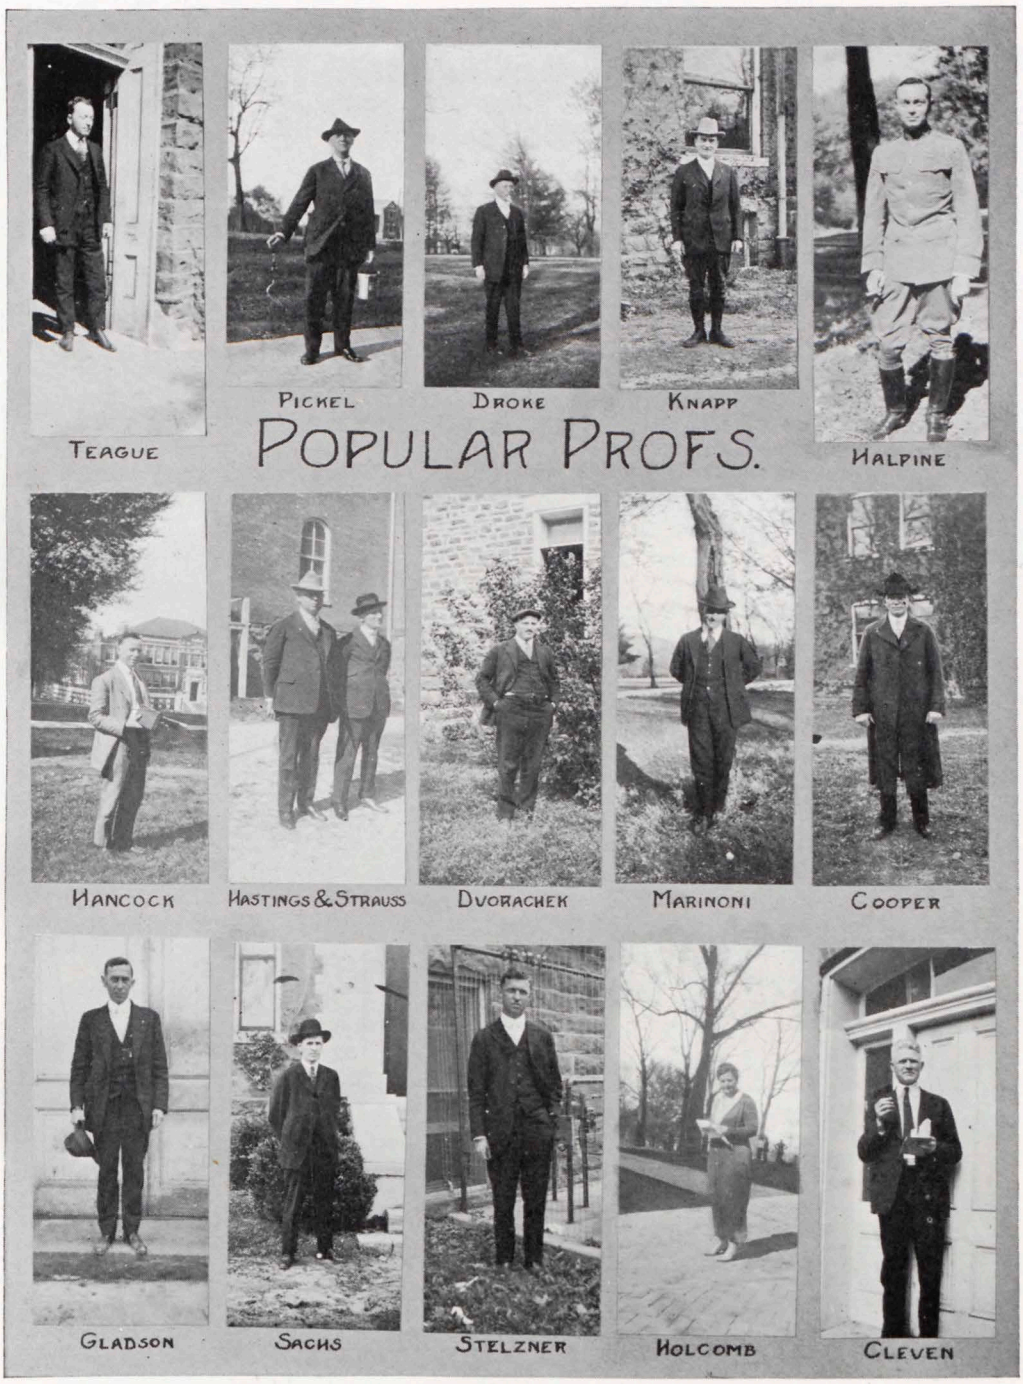

Radford Knapp.

The work of a Dean of Women is far-reaching. She is the confidential adviser to all women of the University on school and personal matters. It is her duty to set up social standards among the students, to enforce existing rules, and to better their social conditions. Their housing and employment problems are her problems.

The University and the State may well be proud of the young women who come to this institution. They are the highest type of American womanhood.

Baseball—Claude Gaffney, James Spikes, J. B. Rogerson, Clinton Black, Jack East.

Track—Frank Pickel, Cecil Paslay.

Honorary—Coach George W. McLaren, Coach Norman Coyle.

COACH GEORGE W. McLAREN

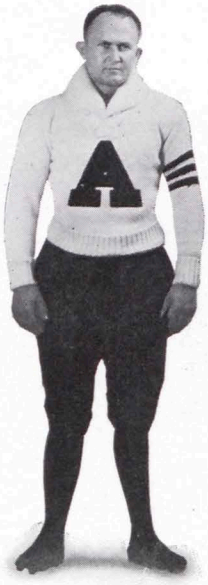

COACH GEORGE W. McLAREN, directing force of the 1920 Razorbacks, came to the University of Arkansas from Pittsburgh University. He was one of the greatest athletes ever turned out under the tutelage of that pigskin master, Glenn Warner, and his name has become a by-word for athletic prowess in the east.

From the start of the season it was apparant that "McLaren football" would be successful at Arkansas. The skill that won him repeated honors on Walter Camp's All-American elevens Coach McLaren turned into instructing channels and got results. The season of 1920 will long be remembered here as one of the big years of Arkansas football.

His job was a hard one. His men, for the most part, were unfinished athletes. All of them were light for their positions, yet the Razorbacks were made into an aggregation that met the best teams without disgrace and a team that was not defeated in a conference game.

McLaren is more than a coach. He is a gentleman off the field and on.

Knotts '24

CAPT. J. T. MCGILL, Center. Tate's job was the hardest on the club, yet in spite of his inexperience at the passer-back's position, he developed into a star and gained all-Southwestern recognition. This was his third year, a climax to a long service of good football for Arkansas.

BEN WINKLEMAN, Right End. The leader of the 1921 Razorbacks—a fighter, whirlwind and star. Wink, by his consistent brilliant playing has earned every honor given to him, including a unanimous all-Southwestern selection as right end, Captain's berth on next year's team, and the respect of all his opponents.

HAL ALCORN, Quarterback. "And a little child shall lead them"—not that Hal was a kid, because every square inch of his 138-pound body was football man. This was the fourth year that he received his "A," an unusual honor. Summing it up, Hal was one of the best quarterbacks ever seen in action here.

CHARLES JAMERSON, Left Guard. The success of "McLaren football," depended to a large extent upon the caliber of the "flying guards." Birdie was all that an ideal lineman could be, fast, heavy, and aggressive. He should prove one of the lasting stars of next year's team.

LONG JOHN WILLIAMS, Left Halfback. Long John was another of the little backfield trio who made the Razorback attack a thing of dread to the opponents of Arkansas. John supplied the squad with the usual and necessary "educated toe" and his perfect spiral punts will be remembered here as long as the pigskin is plunked about on the gridiron.

JIM EWART, Right Tackle. For three years Jim has held down that difficult job of the line—tackle—and to say that he held it down as well this year as he has in the past is sufficient praise. A steady dependable player who could be counted on in the pinches.

ROBERT ROBINSON, Fullback. "Lookit that Stubby go." Robinson was the only big man in the backfield (165 lbs. net), but every ounce of him was devoted to the grand old pastime. Stubby starred in every game of the season and was selected by several sport writers for honorable all-conference mention.

HARRY HANSARD, Left End. A first year man, Harry was never at a loss to know what to do. He was a terror in breaking up end runs and looked every bit as accomplished on the offensive as he did dangerous on the defensive. A Razorback with much promise for next year.

R. E. ALCORN, Right Halfback. When "Elmo" was laid out in the Phillips game with a broken jaw, gloom settled over the Razorbacks. He was a fighter and one of the most brilliant ground gainers of the squad. His absence from the line-up of the Rice games was one of the several reasons for a 0-0 tie instead of a victory.

DICK HOLDERBY, Alternate Halfback. Big and clever on his feet, Dick would have made opponents of Arkansas look sick had it not been for his jinx. Broken ribs, with complications, will slow up any player. Next year he will be in his prime.

GEORGE BASORE, Alternate Lineman. "Bazoo" was somewhat the victim of circumstances. That is, he was understudy for the entire line, and the members of that line refused to get knocked out to accommodate him with a few minutes play. George has made good two seasons, however, and is due a third, so why pity his bum luck?

ARDIS SMITH, Alternate Halfback. Smith is an old head at the game, as well as an excellent backfield man. A weak ankle kept him from working very heavily through the season, but he will make up for everything on next year's schedule. Ardis is a two "A" man.

R. E. WILLIAMS, Left Tackle. When Rushing was laid out at Shreveport, "Sloppy" was called into the game to stop up that unexpected hole. He is a good little man with possibilities during his two year stay with the Razorbacks.

C. T. SMITH, Right Guard. "Smitty" was the second of the "Flying combination"—when he wasn't too lazy to "fly." A big man, with a world of natural ability and fight, he should develop into a real star in two more years. Football runs in the Smith family, according to all the dope.

RECOGNITION: Men who were good enough to make the squad, but who were unfortunate in not getting their "chances" in enough games to win their "A" must not be forgotten in the summary of the season of 1920. Bill Amis, J. K. Grabiel and Rex Kilbourn, substitutes, are men of whom great things may be expected next year.

ORAN YOES, Alternate Halfback. Yoes was a success every time they called on him for a gain, which was often. In addition, he could tackle and break up forward passes. You guessed it, he was a real football player.

G. S. RUSHING, Left Tackle. Rushing was the "fightingest" man on the entire squad, and his hard luck at Shreveport when his ankle was broken has only made him worse. A special ambulance and a string of stretcher bearers will be employed next year to take care of his victims. Being a fighter means that Rushing is quite a football player.

Fattsville.

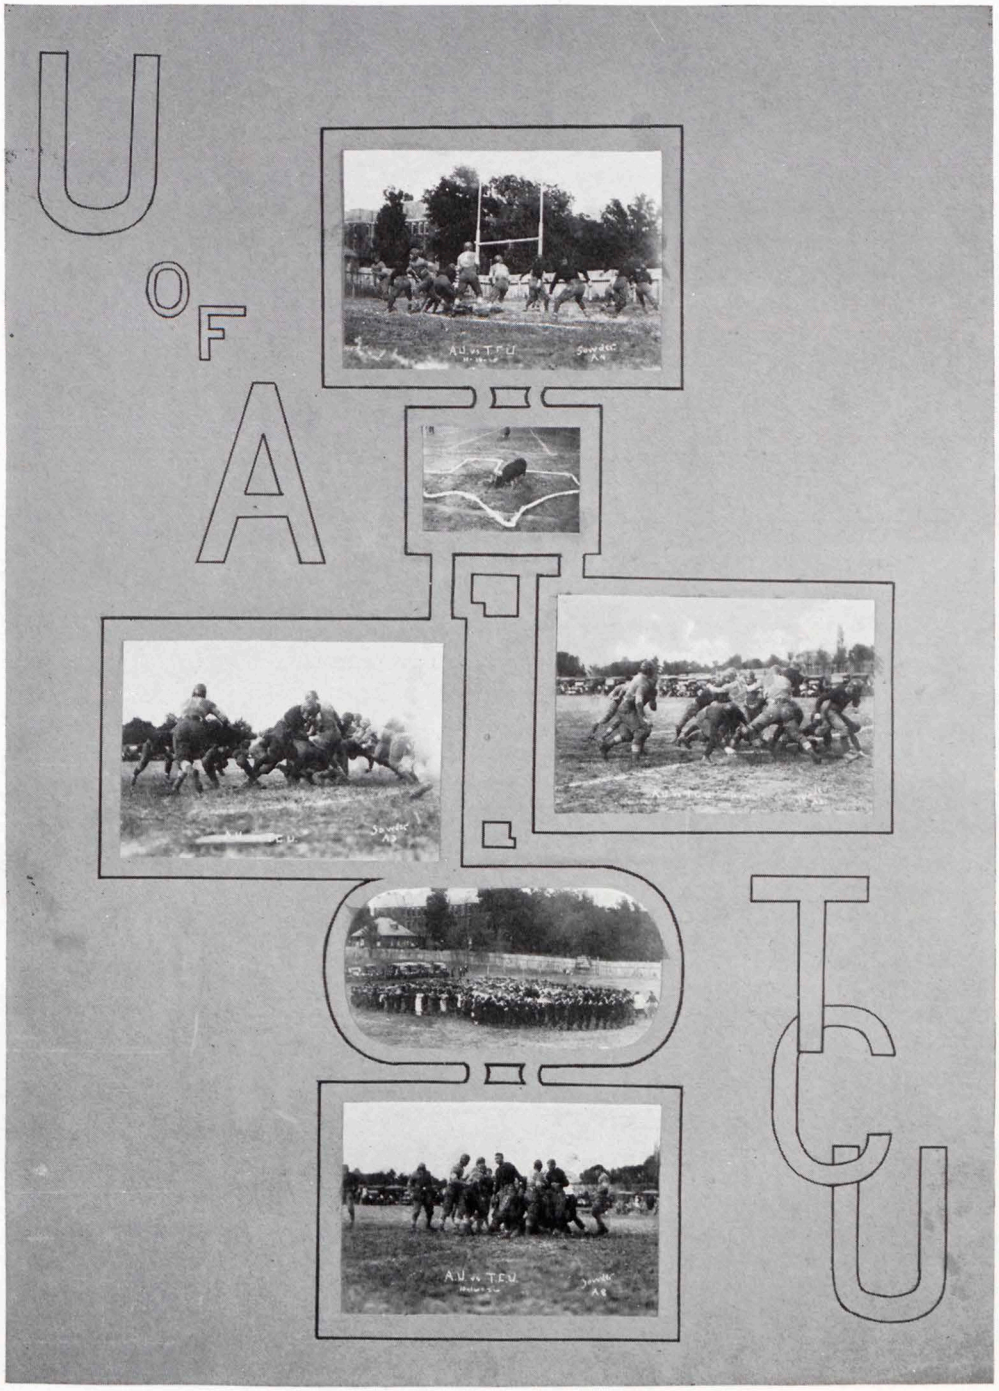

DEAR JOE:

No doubt you have read in the papers of a team called the razorbacks the same being a football aggregation in Arkansas which has set the gridiron in flames so to speak and has made a name for a guy here named McLaren who teaches them to murder without using a ax. Boy you tell em I seen this team in action and they is all to the bunch like a cuban Bananas.

The first game, Joe, I came near to being offa them for life. They was lacking this kick like neerbeer and the Hendrix bulldogs held on to a rabbits foot and the score was 0-0. Joe, they shoulda win in a walk but every time they got near the goal they got St. Vitus and dropped the ball. At that Joe, them Hendrix men looked like they had played a horseshoe they was so scarred up and lucky.

One week later on Oct. 16, the razorbacks played T. C. U. a team from Texas, some little town south of here. They calls them the horned frogs but if a frogs got horns i ain't ever seen them eh Joe? These horney guys shirts was the loudest things you ever seen Joe and I guess the purpel and white of em musta dazzled the Razor backs since lookit the score 17-2. This Rushing bird (he's one of the Razorbacks) and some others got them shirts all dirtied up in the last half tho Joe and the Horned frogs quit scoring for that day. I figgered may be this McLaren guy musta give them Razorbacks some likquid nourishment so I went out next day but all i got was crippled as they was kinda wrought up about something.

The next week this guy McLaren give them some more knockout drops not like the ones I got Joe, and they went to Dallas and beat S. M. U. a institution there 6-0. It was a good game Joe but awfully one sided since the S. M. U.

team never got started the right direction and kept going. These guys Long John, Wink and Stubby was all to the custard as they say in a cafyteria.

Well next week the Razorbacks picked on a poor bunch of guys called the Rollo Minors only those poor devils had been digging coal so long they was all week and wasn't able to keep the razorbacks down 14-0. Cap, Wink and a guy called birdie Looked like this Billion $ war debt we been paying interest on. This was Oct. 30 Joe.

Speaking of roughnecks, I sure am offa this Winkleman and McGill fellows. They is positively brutal Joe and somebody said if they didn't cut it out they'd get put on the all-Southwestern a outlaw club up here. I'm gonna ask them to stop it.

Nov. 6 the team played L. S. U. at Shreveports but outside of beating them 6-3 the game wasn't so many. I admit the referee said the game ended 3-0 favor of L. S. U. but whats that between friends joe. If I ever catch this referee in a dark street they gotta pick him up in a shovel at that. Well it was a good game anyhow and if that cuckoo (not Boyd) Sloppy hada got his feet offa the ground they wouldna been no argument about it anyhow. Rushing got his ankel busted so no Tigers was killed.

The next week (they played every week Joe) the Razorbacks beat Phillips at Enid 20-0. I didn't get to see the game but from what i heard it musta been a track meet. Elmo got his jaw busted but I can't tell you where Phillips got busted.

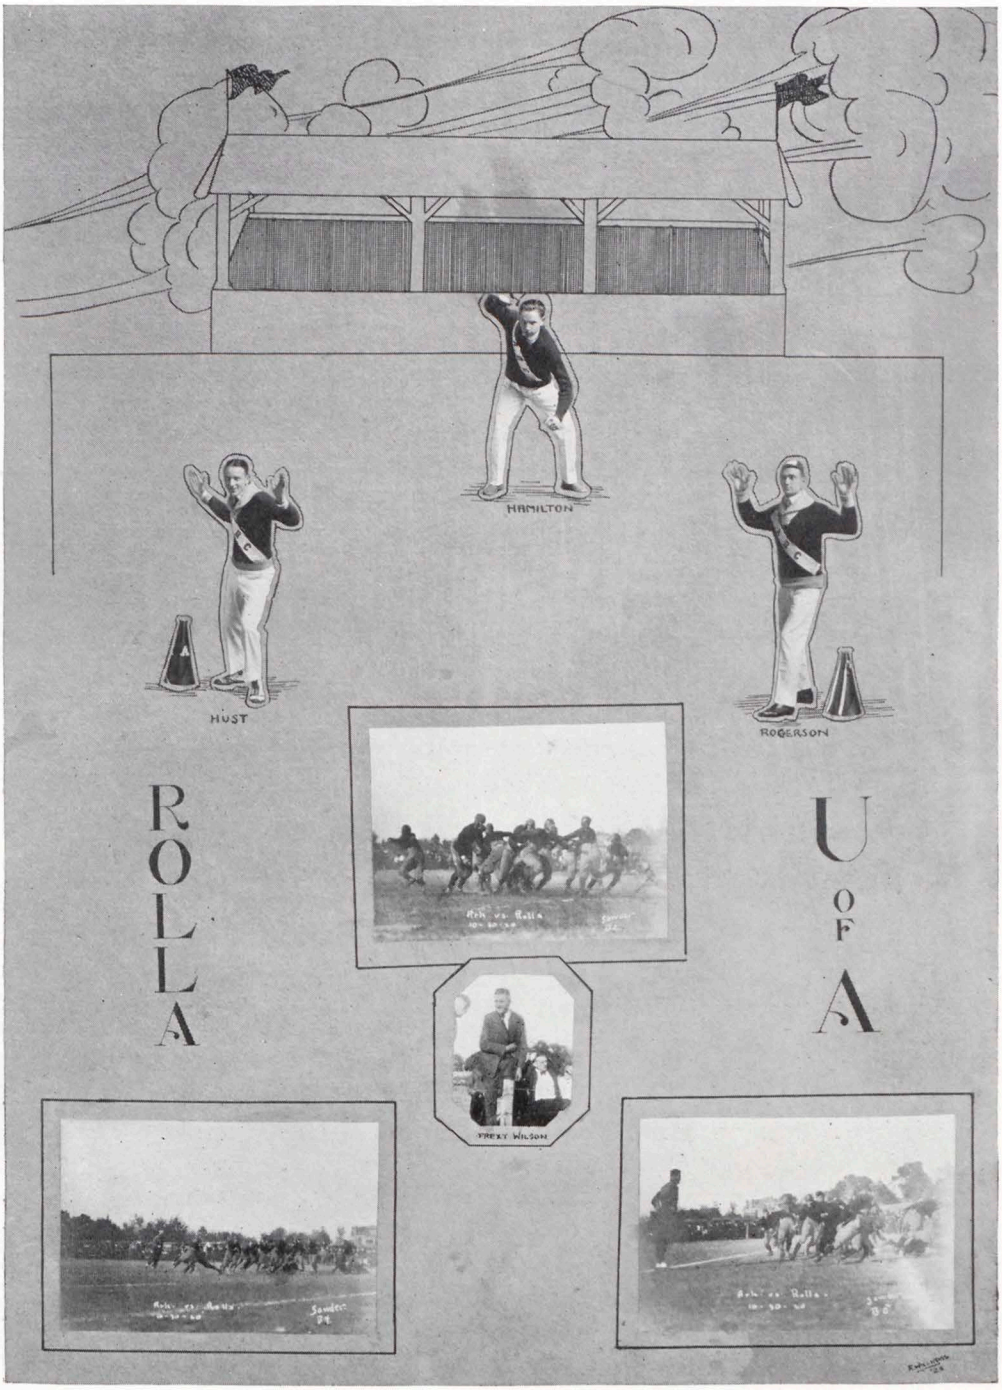

Well Joe i sure did hate to see Thanksgiving Day come as it was the end of the season and anyhow wasn't Rice supposed to beat Arkansas 30-0? That's what they told me and I bet on Rice—yea I rode home behind the engine.

Well as I said before the Razorbacks fought Rice and what I mean they fought them. It ended 0-0 but that ain't half. It outa been 10-0 Arkansas. We win 2nd place in the conference at that Joe. It sure was hard riding behind that engine.

Your friend,

al.

P. S. I knowed Cap and Wink would get outlawed. They went and put em both on the All-Southwestern, likewise Stubby and birdie on the second team. All the girls here is afraid of the boys now since they showed they was so big and brutal.

The Razorbacks

The gang of fighters that carried the name of Arkansas onto every gridiron in the southwest, small men as collegiate football material goes, are stars of the game in every other way. Of the squad of 19 men, only six will be gone when the pigskin is given its preliminary plunk next season.

The Scrubs

A factor necessary in the development of any successful Varsity is the "Scrub" team, second only in importance to the Coach himself. Too many people do not know this and the "Scrubs" are often considered too lightly in summing up a successful season.

It is true that the 1920 Varsity was one of the best football teams ever produced by Arkansas. It is equally true that the 1920 "Scrubs" was one of the best "scrub" teams ever produced here. In practice when they acted the parts of gym equipment for the heavy "firsts" and in the secondary games they were allowed to play, they showed their fighting spirit.

The "Scrub" playing season was very successful. They tied the heavy Russellville Aggie team, an aggregation that held Hendrix 0-0, and they defeated Bentonville and Van Buren High Schools by decisive scores. Tahlequah Oklahoma Normal forfeited to them 1-0 when the Scrubs were going too good to be beaten.

COACH NORMAN COYLE

A new coach always has a rather hard row to hoe. He is not acquainted with the athletes who are to make up his teams, he is not familiar with the conditions that may make his team good or bad, dependent upon the knowledge of these conditions. Coach Coyle has apparently made good at Arkansas through his work as coach. He has overcome obstacles.

Coach Coyle cut his baseball teeth on the Razorback diamond in 1910 under that premier Arkansas coach, Hugo Bezdek. Under Bezdek, he developed into a real diamond star, so that when he quit pounding the horsehide globule in polite University circles he went to Class "A" baseball and made good there.

Whatever the season may develop into, and it looks like a successful one from early indications, Coach Coyle has found a welcome berth at the University. We believe that in him we have the right man in the right place.

Standing—Rogerson, Black, Jamerson, Kemp, Mitchell, East
Sitting—Hendrey, Bennett, Capt. Gaffney, Williams, Spikes, Coach Coyle

THE SEASON

Victories in the early games of the season, coupled with good showings against professional teams, particularly the Omaha (Western League) team, indicate that the Razorbacks are going in their old time form and that something of a record may be expected. Doping a team is the hardest thing in the world, particularly a baseball team, but from all the signs—well figure it out for yourself.

A strong infield, guaranteed against leaks of the type that cost ball games, a hard hitting outfield, and a promising battery squad is the total of the team. Plenty of fight and science is Coach Coyle's contribution. It looks like a real combination.

Games scheduled for the season include: the All-Stars, Omaha, Fort Smith (Western League), Hendrix College, Texas Christian University, and the Arkansas State Teachers College. Seven of these games are on the road and eight are on the home diamond.

CLAUDE GAFFNEY, Captain, First Base. "Pinkey" is one of those fighting Irishmen who would rather get an extra base hit than a passport to Heaven. He led the club in extra base hits.

CHARLES JAMERSON, Pitcher. "Birdie" was the "crooked arm" artist of the squad and, when a rival batter leaned against one of his port side deliveries for a safety it was a rare occasion—for the batter.

JAMES SPIKES, Shortstop. "Jimmie' had the knack of plucking the old apple up out of the dust and heaving it over to first; likewise he was well versed in busting the apple on the seams.

WALDERSEE HENDREY, Second Base. Hendrey wasn't any fence buster, but when his hits did come they counted to the fullest. He was a demon at covering second.

J. B. ROGERSON, Right Field. Three years with the Razorbacks haven't calmed Biscoe in the least. He still cracks 'em as far and grins as widely when he does it as he did when he was a freshman.

JARREL KEMP, Catcher. Kemp was all that an ideal catcher could be. He received the ball easily, had a wicked peg, and could bust 'em in the pinches.

CLINT BLACK, Pitcher. Clint served it up easily and lazily, but it was mighty hard to knock any place. A bad arm hindered him, but he did some good work anyway.

SEXTUS MITCHELL, Pitcher. Sex was the kid of the hurling staff, but he got such results that his won-lost average was as high as those of the vets.

JOE BENNETT, Left Field. This was Joe's first year on the squad, but he worked like an old head in all the games.

JACK EAST, Center Field. "He's Out." That is the verdict of the Umps whenever a ball is hit to center and Jack takes after it. He is one of the fastest fielders in the game.

LONG JOHN WILLIAMS, Third Base. Johnny led the club in batting order and in batting average, and was well toward the top in fielding. He will be a hard man to replace.

TRACK

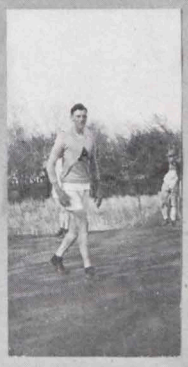

Track Season, 1921

IN SPITE of the fact that Arkansas won neither of her intercollegiate track meets this year, the 1921 track season could hardly be called a failure. There was more interest in the work than ever before and the spirit of the men who came out for the team was better. If victory was uncertain before any of the meets, it was at least settled that Arkansas would fight gamely for every event, win, lose or draw.

The first meet of the season was held April 23 when Pittsburg Normal College of Pittsburg, Kansas, met the team on the home field. Arkansas outclassed the Kansans in the track events, but was hopelessly outclassed in the field events and the final score went against them, 76-57.

A meet held at Conway on the following week was very disastrous for the Razorbacks. A score of 96-38 had been scored against them when the final clouds of smoke rolled away.

The bright spots in every track meet that Arkansas entered were the track events and particularly the distance runs. Captain Cecil Paslay developed into a real star on the two-mile and was given his chance in the Southwestern Conference Meet at Waco May 13. R. Robinson, dash star, and Frank Pickel, hurdle and jump performer, were also taken to the big meet.

COACH ALLEN RICE

Wrestling

The results of the year's work in wrestling, although not all that was expected by some, are considered very encouraging by those who understand the game. With only nine eligible men, seven of whom were entirely new at the game, Coach Rice developed a team that took third place in the Conference meet. The opponents Arkansas had to meet were all comparatively old in the sport. Oklahoma A. & M. had been represented by teams for five years and had engaged in four meets this year before defeating Arkansas 47-0. The score, however, does not indicate the relative strength of the teams as several of the bouts were won by A. & M. on close decisions, one going into an extended period.

In the Conference meet Arkansas took two second places, giving her eight points. Texas University, old at the game, did not place a man.

Hansard, light heavyweight, and Robinson, middleweight, won second place in their respective classes. Hollabaugh in the 115-pound class, and Amis, lightweight, lost in the preliminaries by close margins, the former going to extra periods before his opponent gained a decision. Rodgers, 125-pound class, put up a spirited fight, but found his man too experienced for him. Rodgers did his first wrestling three weeks before the meet. Grabiel, heavyweight, who showed up on the mat just two weeks before the team left for Oklahoma, was unfortunate in drawing for the preliminaries, his opponent being the husky champion from Texas A. & M. Teeter, the lightweight representative, was unable to enter the Conference meet because of an injured shoulder. Amis, formerly of the 145-pound class, was shifted to the lightweight class.

Great credit for the work done in the University to develop this sport should be given Coach Rice. When things looked darkest he was always on the job. With nothing to start with and few men to work with after the start, he produced a team which may be considered a credit to an institution new in the sport. His thorough knowledge and long experience in the game make him a valuable asset to any coaching staff.

SERGEANT GREATHOUSE SERGEANT KIKER SERGEANT LUKOWSKI

Captain Kenneth M. Halpine, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, graduated from the United States Military Academy June 13, 1916, as a Second Lieutenant of Infantry. He served on the Mexican border in 1916. He was promoted rapidly and on August 9, 1918, was made Major and assigned to the 17th Division at Camp Beauregard. He was detailed to the University of Arkansas February 19, 1919. For the past two summers he has been Assistant to the Senior Instructor in R. O. T. C. Summer Camps. The fact that he is sending more than fifty men to camp this summer is a tribute to his ability as an organizer. No Commandant was ever more popular in University circles.

Sergeant Jack M. Greathouse, the senior non-commissioned officer on duty at the University, enlisted in the army in 1912. He served in France as a First Lieutenant of Infantry. After his discharge in June, 1919, he re-enlisted in his former grade, Sergeant, Coast Artillery Corps, and was assigned to the University of Arkansas as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Sergeant Russell L. Kiker served as a Second Lieutenant of Infantry at Camp Pike from the time he was commissioned in 1918 until his discharge in 1920. During a part of this time he was in charge of the Demobilization Board for Enlisted Men at that post. He was assigned to the University soon after his re-enlistment in 1920.

Sergeant John Lukowski came here from Camp Meade, where he was stationed as a Sergeant in the Tank Corps. Sergeant Lukowski was captain and quarterback of the Tank Corps football team which won the Third Army Corps Area championship last year.

ENGINEERS

The Association of Collegiate Engineers

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS CHAPTER

THE Association of Collegiate Engineers is a national organization which grew out of the Guard of St. Patrick, an organization of engineering students in mid-western colleges and universities. Its object is to promote national unity and brotherhood among engineering students through exchange of ideas.

Engineers' Day is the result of the efforts of the association. This year in the parade various machines and appliances were mounted on trucks and displayed in operation by the Civil, Mechanical, Electrical and Vocational Engineers, while the Chemical Engineers presented among other things reports of analyses of other colleges, particularly the College of Agriculture. An electrical railway, numerous laboratory stunts, and concerts by wireless entertained the visiting students in the afternoon.

The climax of the Association's celebration this year came in the annual Engineers' Dance. Kent Grabiel was St. Patrick and Miss Melba Dixon was the Queen.

Department of Civil Engineering

The four-year course in civil engineering offered by this department leads to the degree of Bachelor of Engineering. By practice in the field, laboratory and drawing room, and by establishing a broad and solid foundation in the basic subjects, this department fits its students for immediate usefulness upon graduation.

The courses in Civil Engineering are designed to develop in the student the power of thinking for himself, and deal with the subjects of Surveying, Sanitary Engineering, Hydraulic Engineering, Applied Mechanics, Bridge Engineering, Railroad Engineering and Highway Engineering.

American Association of Engineers

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS CHAPTER

The American Association of Engineers is an engineering organization national in scope, which numbers representatives of all branches of the profession among its members.

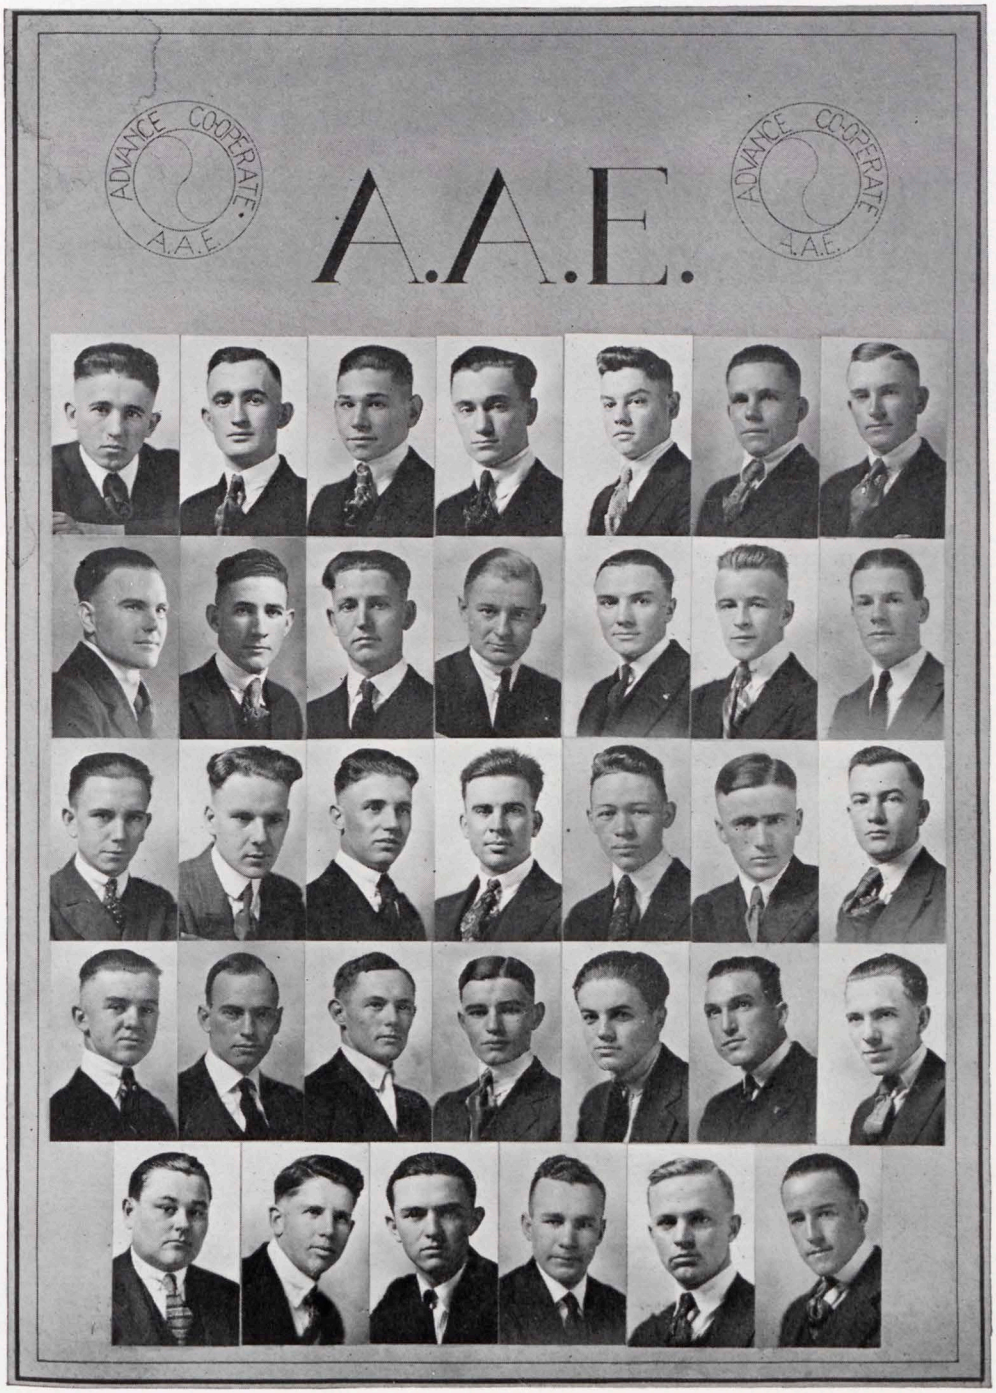

The purpose of the A. A. E. is to raise the standard of ethics of the engineering profession and to promote the social and economic welfare of engineers. The activities of the A. A. E. in following this purpose result in great benefits to the public. The quality of engineering service is increased by the passage of engineers' license laws, by a broadening of engineering education, and by the greater appreciation by engineers of the obligations of citizenship.

Department of Mechanical Engineering

The courses in Mechanical Engineering deal with problems relating to combustion and the analysis of fuels, the generation and transmission of power, the design, construction, operation and testing of machinery of all kinds, and general manufacturing methods.

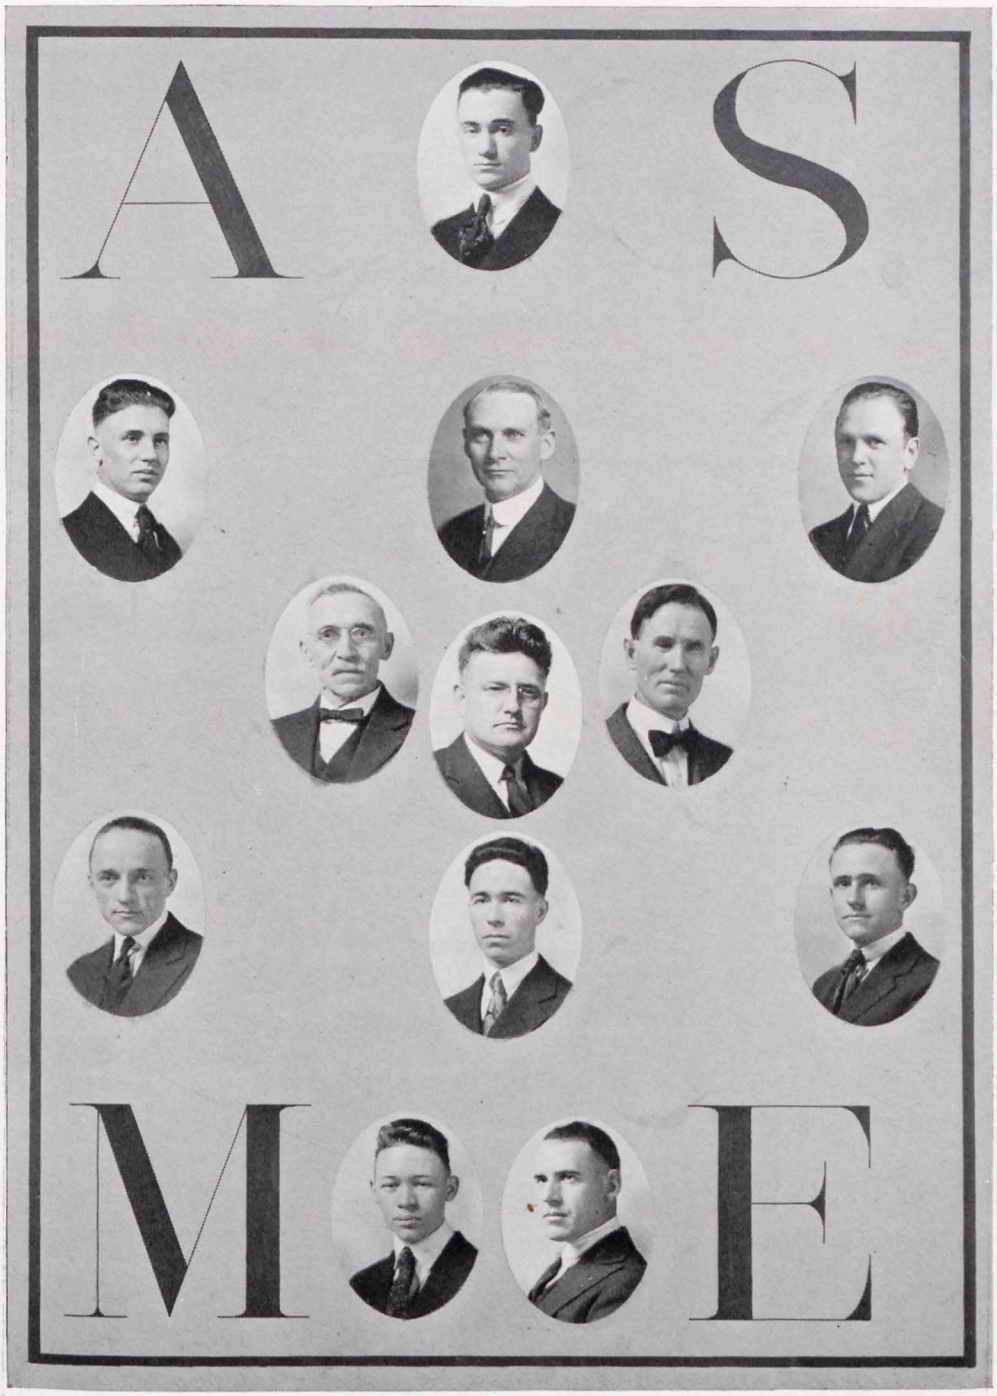

The purpose of the school is to give the basis of a liberal education while providing for training in specialized professions, and to give sufficient practice work and familiarity with operating methods to enable the graduate to make himself useful to employers while he is gaining the broader experience necessary to a successful engineering career. The requirements for graduation emphasize the fact that a thorough grounding in the fundamental sciences, mathematics, and the principles underlying technical engineering work is essential to successful engineering practice.

LOVELL LEFLAR BEAUCHAMP DR. J. C. JORDAN

ARKANSAS vs. LOUISIANA.

The record of the University of Arkansas debating teams this year did not come up to the standard set in previous years. Although all three debates were lost, those who heard the debates are not ashamed of the showing made. Many believe that the debate here against Texas should have been given to Arkansas.

The debating squads this year were composed entirely of new men. Only two experienced debaters were in school, Robinson and Rutherford, and they were kept out of the training by the press of other student activities. Not one of the eleven men had ever participated in an inter-collegiate debate and several of them had not even taken part in high school debates. Dr. J. C. Jordan, the coach, faced a difficult task. Debaters cannot be made overnight, nor can they be made during a two months training period, most of which must necessarily be spent in securing material rather than in developing delivery. It was in the latter that Arkansas was deficient. If the three debates had been judged solely on logical and forceful argument, Arkansas would have won all three of them. Next year Dr. Jordan will have eight experienced men from which to pick four for the debates against the Universities of Oklahoma and Texas.

The first debate of the year was the one with Louisiana State University on April 8th and was held at Fayetteville. The subject was: "Resolved, That as a matter of public policy organized labor is justified in demanding the closed (union) shop." Arkansas upheld the affirmative. Stonewall J. Beauchamp and Robert A. Leflar composed the Arkansas team, while C. J. Ellender and N. H. Polmer, both seniors in the law department, represented L. S. U. The debate was hard fought and was in no sense a walk away for the Louisiana team.

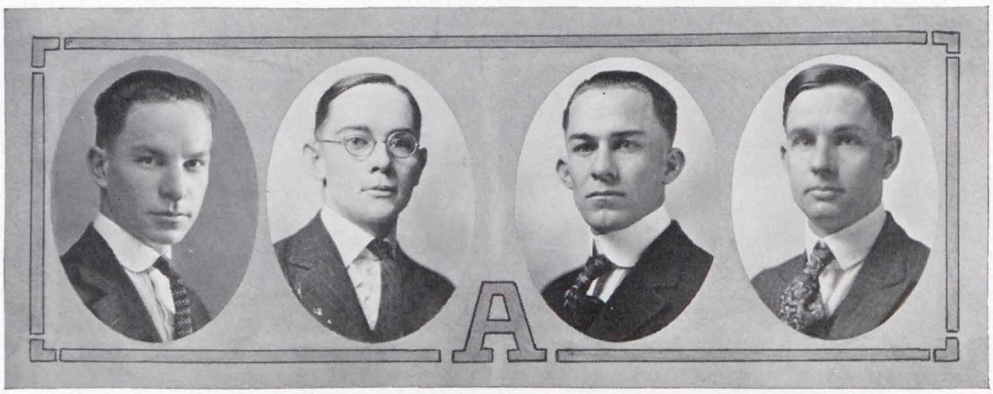

PASLAY BOYD PARRISH ROBERTS

ARKANSAS vs. OKLAHOMA

Our other debates, with the University of Oklahoma and the University of Texas, were part of a triangular debate in which Arkansas will participate again next year. The subject debated was: "Resolved, That the several states should adopt courts of industrial relations similar to that of Kansas." Arkansas upheld the affirmative against Texas at Fayetteville on May 13th and the negative against Oklahoma at Norman on the same date. Lemmon and Davis represented Arkansas at Fayetteville and Boyd and Parrish went to Norman. Although Arkansas lost both debates, in both cases her debaters had their opponents outclassed in argument.

At the outset the Louisiana squad was composed of U. A. Lovell, Robert A. Leflar, Stonewall J. Beauchamp and James E. Rutherford. Rutherford, who was the leader in the debate with Louisiana last year and is regarded by many as probably the strongest debater in the student body today, was forced off the squad by the press of Razorback work and other student activities. Beauchamp is a clear-cut, dignified and convincing speaker whose words take well with any audience. He is one of the best speakers in the University and one who is sure to win next year. Leflar is beyond a doubt the clearest thinker on any of the squads this year. He is steady, consistent and a valuable man to have on any team. This was Lovell's second year on the squad, and although he did not make the team, he deserves much commendation for the work he did.

HAMILTON LEMMON DAVIS MASON

ARKANSAS vs. TEXAS

Parrish is a ready speaker and a quick thinker on the floor. His delivery is convincing and he has the courage to stand up for his convictions. Boyd's natural ease of speech and wide knowledge made him a valuable man. He is a consistent worker.

Davis, the leading speaker for Arkansas in the Texas debate, is a keen thinker and a good extemporaneous speaker. Lemmon's command of language and his ability to analyze a situation quickly enabled him to make a wonderful speech against Texas.

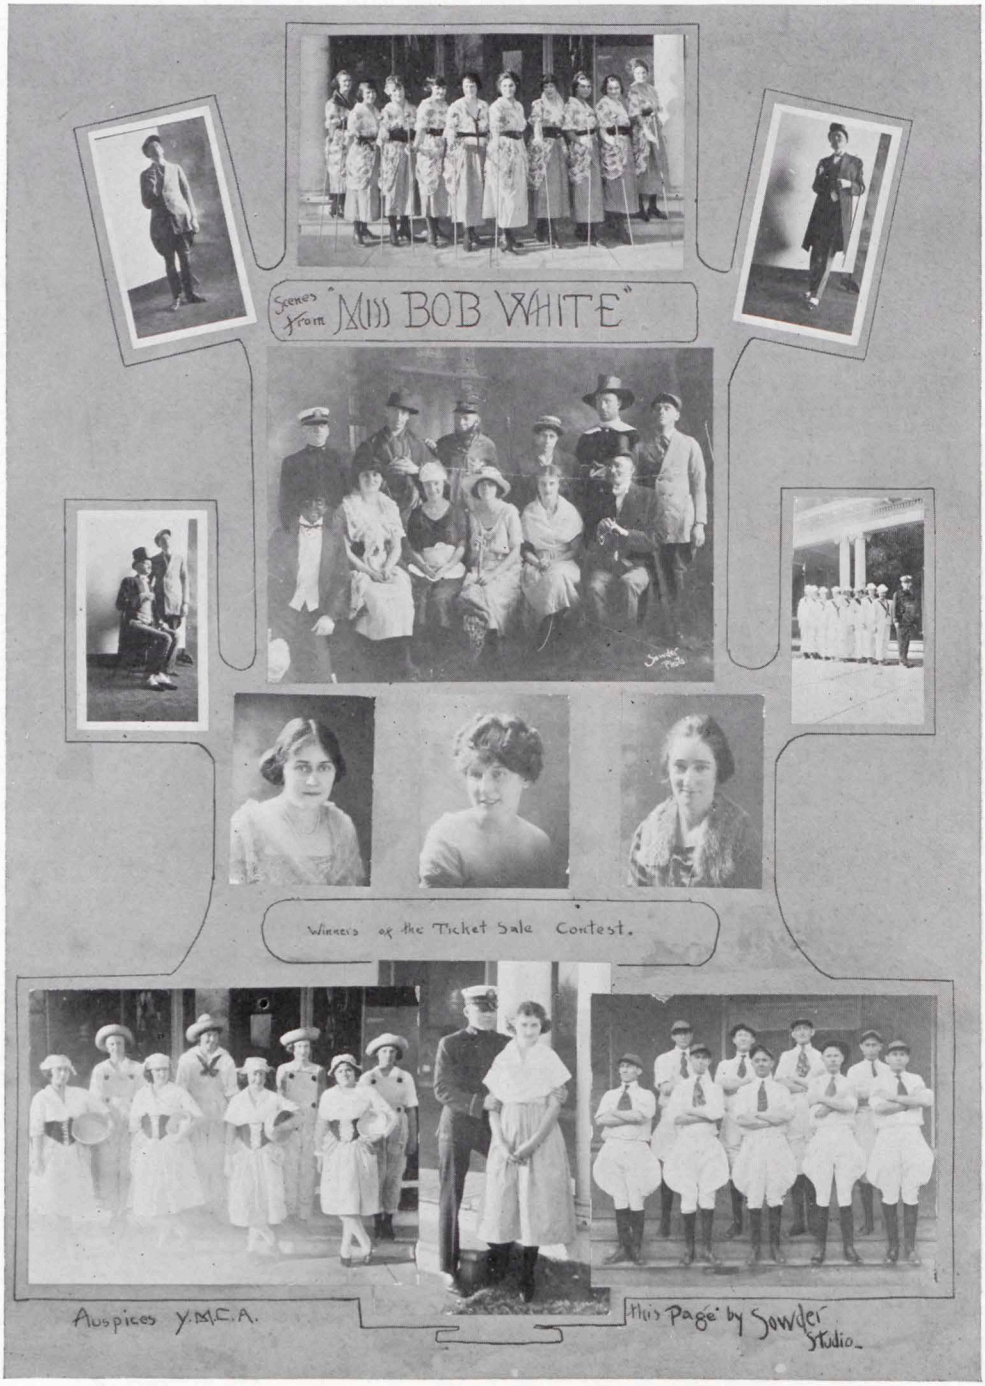

Hamilton and Roberts, although they did not make any team, were valuable men because of their previous training. Both were engaged in many other phases of student activity and could not devote the needed time to debate work.

Mason is a careful thinker who will make a good man for next year's squad. Paslay's work was good and if he were not graduating, one could easily predict that he, like Mason, would be a hard man to beat for a place on the teams next year.

Prospects for next year look bright and we should take both debates. Dr. Jordan will have eight experienced debaters in school besides several who have had training in his courses in Public Speaking. We expect great things under his careful coaching next year.

THE DOCTOR

"There are men and classes of men that stand above the common herd; the soldier, the sailor and the shepherd not infrequently; the artist rarely; rarelier still, the clergyman; the physician almost as a rule. He is the flower (such as it is) of our civilization; and when that stage of man is done with, and only remembered to be marvelled at in history, he will be thought to have shared as little as any in the defects of the period, and most notably exhibited in the virtues of the race. Generosity he has, such as is possible to those who practice an art, never to those who drive a trade; discretion tested by a hundred secrets; tried in a thousand embarrassments; and what are more important, Herculean cheerfulness and courage."

Sh--Sh--Sh--We'll Never Tell

THIS is great stuff! We must chuckle with you as you read roasts on the other fellow and we must crab with you when you see things about yourself and your organization in print, which we hope in most cases isn't true. But don't blame us. We didn't do it. True, we were accessories to the crime because we allowed the stuff to be published. But honestly, we are sorry, dreadfully sorry, dontcha know?—

The guilty man?? Sh—Sh—Sh—! We don't know him. But there's one thing for which we will take oath. He is not a member of the Razorback Staff. He speaks in plain words, but remember he is the best of good fellows, and if he has roasted you a little too brown, don't mind. It's all just a bit of good-natured roasts for the PEP section, and whatever you do, don't let the few words that follow make you sore. If you do, we'll be tempted to believe that the mysterious "ROASTER" spoke the truth.—

—— OPEN WIDE THE OVEN DOOR —

Dear Reader:

If you have never on a cold wintery night come up the steep winding walk leading from Schuler town, or the well beaten trail from Carnall Hall, and after reaching the corner of the Main building found the many cheerfully lighted windows of Hill, Gray, and Buck Halls shining out to welcome you home—

If you have never been aroused from an almost deathlike sleep at seven a. m. by the second ringing of the "gut" hammer and by Dean Simms' loud calling, "Ham and eggs, java wid a spoon in de' cup goin' roun' an roun" and realized that your chances of food depended upon your speed in dressing—

If you have never been in the push at the mess hall door nor heard the chairs screak as the hungry boys tried to hasten the blessing and yelled "Baa" when the Agri meetings were announced—

If you have never come home about 2 a. m. on a cold wintry night only to find that someone had visited your dive and had re-arranged the furniture to conform with the new style known as stacked—

If you have never as a Freshman come out in fear and trembling in the wee small hours of the morning and faced the "White Pants Brigade," nor responded to the "Left, Left—Left Foot High" on a night shirt parade, nor fought a tragic battle of zip on the famous old field of Jeff Hall, nor taken part in "Hail, Hail, The Gangs All Here"—

If you have never heard the "Yo-la-la-ee-ooo" of a Smith or a Kent or a Machen or the Goose Yell of a Moon or the barnyard music of a Collamore or the shrill piercing yell of some night owl student as he announced his homecoming—

If you have never felt that queer, funny, melancholy, death-like feeling somewhere down in your anatomy when the Secretary announced that he would be in his office from one until four to receive board, and your check had not yet arrived from home—

If you have never gently lain across your own trunk and felt the affectionate throbbings of honest-to-goodness leather and had thoughts of his "Satanic Majesty"—

If you have never sat in some neighbor's dive with a crowd of old men and discussed the thrilling events of other days and how you helped administer a just punishment to some freshmen—

Or, even if you have never approaced with uncertain step that august body, the court of last appeals, over which the mighty "Cap" presides—

If, dear reader, you have never had any such experiences, you cannot, you simply cannot, appreciate the dormitory section of this RAZORBACK.

"Them Frats"

Kappa Alpha

This fraternity was founded in Fort Smith and still exists there to a large extent, although a branch house was recently established in Fayetteville when a number of the brothers changed their address. They are especially strong in the North. Arkansas, however, is in the South. They have consecrated their lives to the care and prolongation of the female race, and this year, in order to be near the scene of their activities, they moved near the Chi Omegas. It is rumored that they are giving the "Chinks" some very strong competition. They believe in progression and expansion, and as proof of it there were approximately 934 members of the Lodge at the last census. Their apparent easiness in getting men is explained by their unique method of rushing. A box of pledge pins is placed in the Registrar's office and all those who desire are invited to help themselves. The scope of their activities extend to the sorority houses and end at the same place. Their motto is, "God and the Females," and their greeting is "Eat, drink and get drunk for tomorrow you may be kicked out of the University." Their national anthem is as follows:

Give us men with a feminine look,
Good looking blondes preferred,
Men of the handsome Hillhouse type
And fair young Vinyard.
Give us some drunkards, and some snobs;
Fill them with foolish pride—
Aristocrats to top them off,
And we are satisfied.

Sigma Chi

This fraternity, commonly known as the "Sigma Chinks," was founded for the sons of wealthy barbers. Their motto is, "We love short-haired women, but nix on short haired men." For this reason the lodge maintains its own barber, who each year reshapes the hair of all freshmen to conform to the fraternity standard. Their favorite beverage is Mandaline, and without doubt barrels of it are consumed daily. The lodge is very militaristic and has produced many great generals, i. e., Bill Bain and Gutherie Hassell. They own and operate the Cadet Battalion and always go on the streets in columns of squads. Their towering presence is also found in many other walks of student endeavor and their favorite saying is, "We own the University, so join us and we'll split it fifty-fifty.

They major in wine, women and economics with a great deal of stress on the first two. It is said that there has been some disagreement with their sister "Chiotes" over their new style of haircuts, and as a matter of compromise they have agreed to appear on the streets next year with short-cropped heads.

"We used to be one of the four
Before our standards fell.
Brooks and Gutherie were with us then—
But now we're shot to hell.
Of course, we are all officers
Because of Major Paul,
But still we long for that high place
Which was once our chapter stall."

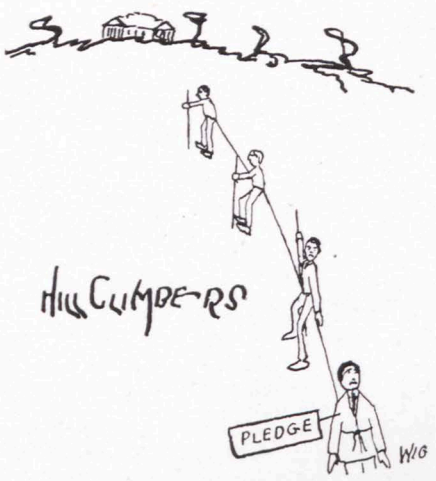

Pi Kappa Alpha

A national honorary scholarship fraternity whose principal prerequisite is that a man must have a grade average of at least an E flat before becoming a member. The Club is made up principally of engineers and there is some talk of consolidating with Tau Beta Pi. Their main trouble seems to be, not in getting men but in keeping them, and for some reason they recently lost four of their star boarders. Their meeting place is Gray Hall, Engineering Hall, and the Frisco Drug Store. Aside from their ability as "Stewdents," they are strong for "Spiritualism" and numerous "blue ribbons" have been awarded them for their methods of making home brew. Following is their national poem:

We're slaves of the old slide rule,
The pencil and T-Square.
To cut a class or miss a lab,
No Pi K. A. would dare.
We haven't a campus lizzard,
Nor a single political drag,
The fact that we're engineers,
Is all of which we brag.

Sigma Nu

An organization of mountain climbers who also specialize in porch climbing and other second story work. Former Gum Boot Curry Freeman is Chief Thug of the gang and has many brilliant lieutenants among whom might be mentioned Ed Stone, Birdie Jamerson and Jarrel Kemp. Special training is given all freshmen who accept the faith of the order by requiring them to scale the dizzy heights of Mount Nord several times each day. A great deal of the fraternity's activities are confined to the Pi Phi and other sorority houses, and the way the census of the lodge is taken is by counting the number of co-eds wearing the official emblem. They also take a leading part in athletics and one of the brothers, Leo Hardin, promises to become Arkansas' greatest athlete. The lodge majors in spiritualism and much time is spent in lamenting over departed spirits. The Freshmen are treated like "red-headed step-children" and their life is far from H—— (not happy). They are strong believers in pugilism and the old men are developed by practicing on the freshmen and "Others." The following free verse gives the more important characteristics of this tribe:

Roughnecks we are classed as,
Athletically inclined.
A bunch of hard-boiled fighting men
Of Elmo Alcorn's kind.
Whipping Frosh is our amusement,
Free for alls our chief delight
Oh, hard the life a freshman leads
Who doesn't love to fight.

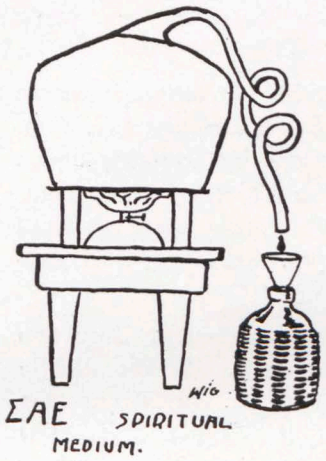

Sigma Phi Epsilon

An organization founded as an experiment and which as far as we can learn is still largely in the experiment stage. This year in order to kindle a fast dying flame, they decided to combine with University School of Music and for this reason the lodge has taken on new life. The Foreman during the rushing season made a tour of the state and Gray Hall and pledged every freshman who played anything from a juice harp to a hand organ. Their Jazz Band has come in very handy for the dances this year as a substitute for Toby's band. When interviewed by a reporter the Boss of the Club said that it would be impossible for him to give the names of the members of the Club for he hadn't had a chance to meet all of them to date. But we believe, he continued, that a fair estimate would place the number at about 932. It is said that next year an advertising campaign will be put on in all the state's leading papers in order to double this year's record membership if possible. The following lines were extracted from their "him" book:

They say a vacant button hole
Is all we need to see
To move a man to our Hotel
And call him an S. P. E.
But that is a reflection on
This democratic frat.
For we've pledged a bunch of skates
Who had not even that.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

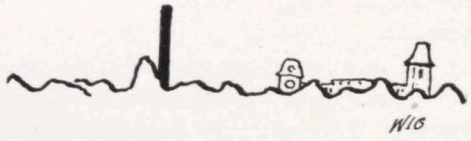

This bunch of spirit "coaxers" live on College Avenue, Zeta Tau House and the Ozark Theatre. They have many men who were admitted to the "Bar"—before Monnet went dry, and now, rather than be outdone by a little thing like the nineteenth amendment, they have placed all the necessary equipment in their home and are continuing their studies very earnestly. Besides "Stewdents" they also have lady fussers, roughnecks and politicians. Their motto is, "Down with the nineteenth amendment and long live the City Taus." They excel in lady spoofing especially, and from the looks of the campus this last spring one would judge that S. A. E. was a national sorority rather than a lodge. If their numbers increase any more they are planning to lease the Oriental Hotel for a chapter house next year. Below is their national ditty:

Knights of the light fantastic toe—
Social climbers we—
Oh God! The times we've tried to break—
Into society.
But George objects to dancing
This keeps us out of the swim—
We'd have some in the fussers class
But for—Girls and him.

Kappa Sigma

The ancient lodge known as Kappa Swig, meaning Keppa Stewed, was founded in the town where Bologna sausage is made. The head of the lodge is a famous athlete who is also a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. The club has a crescent shaped pin, indicative of the fondness of the gang for moonshine and star-gazing activities. They have five "A" men. (Don't accuse them of making "A" grades for slander is objectionable here.) The salutation of the brothers is "Save a little dram for me," and their motto is "E Pluribus Unum." They are good scouts, even if they are lady fussers and politicians. They are affiliated with the National Spanish Athletic Association. Their wail is:

The first year men would not accept
The bids we passed around.
We culled the ranks of the old men
And pledged, bout half the town.
The only thing we asked about
Was how much each could swig,
To place on him the snaky pin
Of dear old Kappa Sig.

Them Girl Frats

Chi Omega

When interviewed by our reporter on successful rushing the following set of rules were handed out by Dorothy Black. We interviewed the Chiotes in this manner because they always seem to land Class. Oh, don't you think so? Well, anyway, here goes:

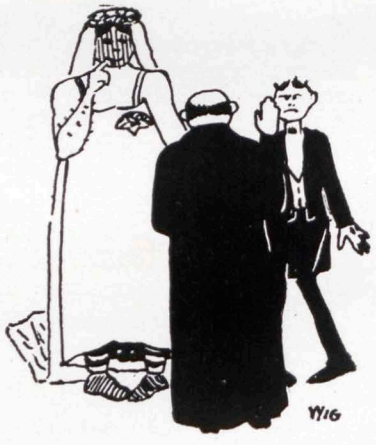

(1) Our motto is quantity. Any two sisters may pledge a girl. (2) We are the politicians of the campus. (3) We are the official rushers of the Sigma Chi's. (4) Pound the other sororities before and after. (5) Keep rushees supplied with flowers (they don't cost much when bought from the undertaker). (6) Fall on a rushees neck, it makes them homesick. (7) Make the K. A.'s think you like them as well as the Chinks.

N. B.—(Later in the day)—Same reporter speaking to a Tri Kappa.

Reporter: "If you girls would get up a set of rules such as these you would soon be in the class with the Chi Omegas."

Tri Kappa: "Who in h—— wants to be."

Delta Delta Delta

D. D. D. stands for Darn Dood Dirls, also for Deucedly, Doubtful Damsels and, oh yes—Delta Delta Delta, which is a Greek name and supposed to be very mysterious; but we've guessed its meaning, according to circumstantial evidence, to be the University Marriage Market. It may seem odd but we've been encouraged in our guess by Charlye Forrester, Aliece McHenry, Edna Clark, Verlia Cobb, Edgar Lyday and Graphyra Wilkerson. Eugenia Towell says that she feels so odd with that bunch without a frat pin. They're here because they're here, and no one has been able to dope out any other reason. The lodge pin is crescent which indicates they are strong for moon stuff and not the full moon either. Thanks to the limited space it permits us to say no more.

Pi Beta Phi

"Dog-gone, Dutch, you gotta cut out that rough stuff. Ain't we tryin' to be ladies and here you go and spill that stuff by being caught on the campus in one of those long, lingering forget-me-not holds. Now, I'm not trying to criticize you, understand, but you got caught and that's the trouble. There's the lucky and unlucky and who wants to be the unlucky?" With this language, Sister Hardeman opens the Pow-Wow of the society. Then there ensues such a line of talk as would make a Fayetteville tough go home and weep for shame. There in one corner, holding court, is the queen of them all, Sister H. Coleman, who reigns supreme because she can say "Damn" in four languages. In another corner surrounded by admirers is Frances McDougal, whose claim to distinction is that she won third place in the beauty contest. But all things have an ending and the session adjourns to seek new ways of captivating the male population of the land.

Zeta Tau Alpha

"Well, gals," greet a Sister Gillespie to the sweet bunch gathered in the dining room of the City Tau House, "We've downed our grub so let's go up to the chapter room and worry through another meeting of this here organization. Sister Wilkinson thereupon grabs the mallet and makes a grand rush for the top of the stairs, followed by 'steen odd wearers of the shield. Assembled in the room, the heart-breakers take a three-minute recess to powder their noses and primp up a bit. Sis Wilkinson then knocks a chunk out of the altar with a lively smash of the gavel and with a shrill voice emits the following: "Let's go, gang—we gotta get this bore over P. D. Q. My beau just called and I gotta be out o' this joint by seven bells—get me? We're going to the movies—see."

Knock at the door: "Whadda ya want," blusters Sister Gillespie.

Voice from without: "East, Davis, Simmons and Papa Wolfe are here."

General mad scrap for the door—scene of topsy-turvy ensuing.

Zeta meeting adjourned or rather quits at 7:01.

7:11. Palace takes in $2.20.

University of Arkansas

FAYETTEVILLE

A STANDARD institution, comprising colleges of liberal arts, agriculture, engineering and education. There is also a medical department situated at Little Rock.

Entrance to the freshman class is based on a four-year high school course. The usual courses leading to the bachelor's degrees are offered.

The various departments have good laboratory and library facilities. The faculty is composed almost exclusively of men and women with advanced degrees from the best universities in the United States and with much experience in teaching.

Student activities comprise athletics in all the usual forms, publications, inter-collegiate debating, Christian associations, departmental societies and fraternities, and various social organizations.

The Legislature of 1921 granted the University a large increase in appropriations. There will be several new members of the faculty, and additional equipment will be purchased. In the next two years buildings to the value of $350,000 will be erected.

The next regular session will begin September 21, 1921. The summer session will begin June 20, 1921. Catalog and circulars of information may be obtained from the Registrar.

Tri Kappa

This choice assortment of vampish damsels has as its mistress of ceremonies no other than the celebrity, Blythe Trimm. In calling the motley collection to order Sister Trimm proceeds thusly: "Sister Ford, pass the collection box." With stately steps the maiden wends her way among assembled male pursuers and collects a jitney here and there.

The ceremony of keeping the wolf from the door being over, the roll call follows. All answer except those who are pacing the streets. For the benefit of those remaining Blythe decides to shoot the breeze, even if all the sisters won't get the benefit of all her years of experience. "Sisters, I come before you with a feeling of joy at my heart strings. We are ending the most successful year of our existence, for we have enticed into our lair ten of the most scraggly freshmen the campus has boasted of in decades." With these words the principal business of the meeting was at an end and the twenty gazelles here assembled gave several whoops of elation, passed around the stranglehold and dispersed.

THE KISS

The kiss is a peculiar proposition. Of no use to one, yet absolutely bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing; the young man has to steal it, and the old man has to pay for it. The baby's right, the lover's privilege and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, FAITH; to a married woman, HOPE; and to an old maid, CHARITY.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

One bright day in the middle of the night
Two dead boys began to fight.
A deaf policeman heard the noise
And came and killed the two dead boys.

Entrance Questions

The answers to these questions must be filled out by all freshmen upon entering the University of Arkansas. Write your answers in ink.

I. Were you ever born?
 (a) If so, state when, where and why.

II. How much money have you?
 (This question is especially important because George Blodgett wants to know how much to charge you for bathhouse tickets, etc., and get by with it.)

III. Have you ever had ancestors?
 (a) If so, why and how long did they last?
 (b) If not, state anything else interesting you have had.

IV. Do you shoot craps?
 (a) If so, do you know how to roll a seven?
 (b) If not, we will teach you for ten cents per lesson. See Jimmie Colbert.

V. Do you study?
 (a) If so, why?
 (b) If not, enter the B. A. College.

VI. Do you bathe regularly?
 (a) If so, state frequency.
 (b) If not, tell us how you get by without it.

VII. Do you play a musical instrument?
 (a) If so, join the Hill Hall Jazz Band.
 (b) If not, join the U. of A. Band.

VIII. Do you drink? (This does not refer to Coca-Cola).
 (a) If so, tell us where you get it. (It is understood that this is strictly confidential and will get no further than the discipline committee).

IX. Do you smoke?
 (a) If so, state the number of cigarettes bummed daily.
 (b) If not, what brand of gum do you chew?

X. Do you know how to spell A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S and do you know the Alma Mater from memory?
 If not, consider yourself rejected.

IF CAMPUS WALKS HAD EYES

If campus walks had eyes,
What would you do these keen spring nights
When all to the wise
You squeeze some co-ed up real tight?

If campus walks had eyes
How would you walk in the morning mist?
You'd heave many sighs
After the Discipline Committee's "dismissed."

If campus walks had eyes—
But why worry—they haven't.

Research Problems

WE WONDER—

If Prof. "Inkum" (Income) Gillman ever was in Cleveland.

What made Jack East forsake wine for women.

Who furnished the City Taus with the gray stockings.

If Dr. Stewart has sold his farm in Tyronza.

If the Sigma Chis really attend the Chiote Frat. meetings.

If Jimmie Hopkins was really the prize catch of the year. (Before attempting to solve this problem, read his autobiography in the Southwest American.)

If Red Wakefield is the only unmarried man in the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

If Cyrus (the) King approved of (the) Lemmon as the favorite fruit of Holland.

What became of the hula dress used at Carnall. (See Hot Shots.)

How Edgar Lyday sprained her ankle.

If Towery and McKinnis really pay board at Carnall. (Ought to.)

If Cap McGill has deserted the Buck Hall political machine.

How much "corn" Dick Holderby put out after the Dormitory election.

Will the male students obey Dean Droke's order to wear smoked glasses in the Main building.

How the Thomas-Finger-Sandpaper libel suit come out.

How Professor Patrick Murphy Sheehan got by the customs officials with that hat.

If General Electric Ripley stopped the "Yellow Edition" of the Arkansas Traveler.

Why Dean Cunningham got "canned."

If it is true that the Pea Fowl Lodge has ordered a gas thermometer in order to determine the temperature of the Club in the moonlight.

Where the Tri Dooltas got so many "Strawberry Blonds." (It might have been Hot Springs.)

If there are any keen women coming up next year.....and how we are going to shake this year's "crush" for a new one.

If the Chi Omegas are going to sue the Traveler.

And lastly.....we wonder who in the h——l is the mysterious writer of these ROASTS.

Ode To The Modern College Girl

(And all the others.)

By One of the Boys.

Little girl, you are so small,
Don't you wear no clothes at all?
Don't you wear no shimmy skirt?
Don't you wear no "petti" skirt?
Just your corset and your hose—
Are those all your underclothes?
Little girl, you look so slight
When I see you in the light.
With your skirts cut rather high,
Won't you catch a cold and die?
Aren't you 'fraid to show your calf,
It must make the fellows laugh.
Little girl, what is the cause,
Why are your clothes all made of gauze?
Don't you wear no undervest,
When you go out fully dressed?
Do you like those peek-a-boos,
'Stead of normal underclothes?
Little girl, your 'spenders show
When the sunshine plays just so.
I can see your tinted flesh
Thru your thinnest gown of mesh.
Is it modest do you 'spose,
Not to wear no underclothes?
I can see way past your throat
To a region most remote;
Taint my fault, now don't suppose,
Why not wear some underclothes?
Little girl, your socks have shoals
Of those tiny little holes;
Why you want to show your limb
I don't know; is it a whim?
Do you want to catch the eye
Of each fellow passing by?
Little girl, where is the charm
In your long uncovered arm?
And the "V" behind your neck,
Is it for the birds to peck?
Little girl, I tell you those
Cannot take the place of clothes.
Little girl, now listen here:
You would be just twice as dear
If you'd cover up your charms—
Neck, back, legs, and both your arms.
I would take you to some shows
If you'd wear some underclothes.
But no lover--goodness knows—
Wants a girl "sans" all her clothes.
Little girl, your mystery
Loving charms and modesty
Are what make us fellows keen
To possess a little queen.
S'pose I'd wear some harem pants,
Or no shirt like all my aunts,
They'd arrest me, don't you s'pose?
I must wear a coat of mail,
Clothed from head to big toe nail;
I must cover up my form,
Even when the weather's warm.

SUPREMACY

For the past fifteen years the Educational Department of the Bureau of Engraving, Inc., has been collecting a vast fund of information from the experiences of hundreds of editors and managers of Annuals.

This data covering organization, financing, advertising, construction, selling and original features has been systematically tabulated and forms the subject matter for our series of reference books. These are furnished free to those securing "Bureau" co-operation in the making of engravings for their books.

Begin where others have left off. Profit by their experience and assure success for your Annual.

Capt. McGill Makes Enviable Record

Visits Prexy 9,999 Times This Year

Capt. Tater McGill, head of the Gumboots, has beaten the University visiting record by paying his 9,999th call at the President's office.

It is rumored that Cap. is applying for the position recently made vacant by the resignation of Dean Cunningham.

Cooper Returns

Oliver R. A. Cooper, former head of the Department of Politics in the Dorms, returned last week and at once rallied his old forces. It is rumored that he is planning a coalition with T. N. E. for the purpose of controlling things here.

His lieutenants in Buck Hall had a bountiful supply of slander ready when "Coop" arrived. He was well pleased with what the boys had been doing.

Droke Will Entertain

For the next four Friday afternoons Dr. George W. Droke and Dr. Hancock, Dean of Freshmen, will entertain in the former's office for all those who have been unable to attend classes. A car ride will follow.

Dr. Hastings Talks To Y. W. (Sec'y)

Goes to Carnall Hall Week Ahead of Time

Dr. Hastings, who, for some unknown reason, has a great interest in Y. W. this year, was scheduled to speak at Vespers on Thursday evening and in order to be on time he went a week ahead. Miss Jackson found an audience for him, nevertheless. She disclaims any knowledge as to why he should be so interested.

Dean Resigns

Dean James A. Cunningham, for many years the custodian of the radiators and other loafing grounds in the main building of the University, resigned today.

It is rumored that he will be succeeded by a prominent fraternity man who lives in the main building most of the time.

Hancock Loses Hat

Dean J. L. Hancock's new panama hat, the first hat he has worn in twelve years, was stolen from his room yesterday.

Woodrow Wilson immediately called a meeting of the freshmen and a new lid was purchased for their dean. Pres. Futrall called a Senate meeting to investigate the affair.

Chi Omegas To Sue Arkansas Traveler

Bring Libel Suit Against Paper for Slander

Attorney H. G. Hust yesterday filed suit in behalf of the Chi Omega Frat. against the Arkansas Traveler because of statements made by the paper relative to the sisters of the Lodge toddling on the train.

Hust is said to have sworn statements that no member of the order has ever toddled, shimmied, camel-walked, or danced in any other manner, good or bad, in any place.

If the plaintiff's statements are true the Editor of the Traveler will no doubt soon be toddling his way toward Sing Sing.

Machen Leaves

H. Machen left yesterday for parts unknown. His friends in the Dorms held a reception for him at which all his grunts and grafts were reviewed.

Machen told of the events which led up to his great 1920-21 bellyaching campaign and urged his cohorts to lay down their arms only when they had gotten revenge on those who gave the secretaryship to Jim Ewart.

EDITORIAL

The object of this publication is to make certain persons regret the sins they have committed; others, the sins they have omitted.

If it were not for a clean-up of this sort every year, many persons would come and go, make much scandal and get away with it. However, the custom has always been to get as many of them as possible. We hope everyone will look upon ours as a necessary evil rather than a criticism. We dedicate this edition to those who sinned and got away with it and to those who sinned and didn't.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Roaster condemns in the strongest words possible those girls who have been using Miss Fannie Parks' and Miss Campbell's windows as means of entering Carnall after the doors have been locked. The President should see that these young ladies close and LOCK their windows.

SOCIETY COLUMN

Miss Gertrude Hardemann announces her engagement and approaching marriage to J. Kenneth Farmer.

Bob Leflar, James Colbert, and Max Ware were guests at the Kappa House Sunday.

The City Taus are paying the girls in Carnall an extended visit.

Sol Towery, Gabe Meyer, and Bobby Lemmon of Carnall Hall were dinner guests at the Men's Dormitories Wednesday evening.

Dr. Cady entertained his Geology students with a twenty-mile hike Saturday. Several others are planned.

LIFE

Life is one great game of poker with no limit on the game. We are compelled to take a hand and stay on our own nerve.

At the beginning we hold nothing but a lone ace. Finally we draw a heart flush.

We then hold a hand and feel that we have a queen high. We draw for a diamond which results in the queen high turning into a pair.

This pair is soon followed by three of a kind. Then we get lucky and hold a full house. Then luck goes against us and we find there is a joker in the game and with a mitt full of spades the other fellow cleans us out and we are carried away on a pair of trays.

Out on the campus
No one nigh
Moonlight soft
So was I.
One li'l kiss,
No one to see
I enjoyed it,
So did she.

Sweet Irene,
Campus queen,
Wore a waist
That "sho" was mean;
Made of stuff
Called crepe de chine.

When Irene,
The campus queen
Wore that waist
Of crepe de chine,
More was seen
Of sweet Irene
Than there was
Of crepe de chine.

"How is it that Sodie never takes you to the show nowadays," asked Lida Higgs.

"Well," said Charlye, "one night it rained and we sat in the parlor, and—well, I don't know, but say don't you think shows are an awful bore?"

"What is a good reducing agent?"

"Epsom salts."

Soph—Did you ever take ether?

Frosh—Naw. What hour does it come?

"A pretty girl is like a melody."

"In what key—"

"High C. of L."

California scenery is wonderful.

Canadian scenery is exquisite.

Hawaiian scenery is compelling.

But, oh, boy—

On a windy day

This campus scenery is educational.

To write prose
You have to have
A germ of an idea;
To write poetry
You need ability;
But to write
Thisdamnstuff
All you need is
A typewriter.

Farewell

We have no doubt the De'il grins,
As seas of ink we splatter;
Ye Gods forgive our literary sins—
The other kind don't matter.
—Robert W. Service.

We take this last opportunity to thank those students and faculty members who have assisted in putting out Everybody's Razorback. Claris G. Hall, Carl ("Wig") Toalson, Ray Williams, and Harold Knotts, although not Juniors, rendered valuable assistance. The book is much better because of the aid they gave the editor. To "Wig" Toalson must go the credit for practically all the illustrating. Nat Shepherd, Assistant Editor, Robert A. Leflar, Class Editor, R. C. Rankin, Agri. Editor, and R. J. Horn, Engineering Editor, did their work well.

No write-up of this kind would be complete without the name of Farrell Sullivan, Advertising Manager. Although he carried an unusually heavy course throughout the year and took an active part in other student activities, he has made the best record ever made by a Razorback Advertising Manager. Others who should be named among those who helped to make the book really "Everybody's" are: Robert Lemmon, Aubrey Baber, Adeline Pate, Merle Ford, Mathilde Goodwin, Dr. J. C. Jordan, Professor G. E. Ripley, and Captain Kenneth M. Halpine. Captain Halpine offered the management the use of a part of his office as a Razorback office after the efforts to establish a Publications Office in the main building failed.

In this connection the editor would not forget the valuable assistance rendered by Mr. Ben F. Seward of the Hugh Stephens Printing Company. The placing of the book in your hands at this time is due almost wholly to him. His advice and other help will long be remembered.

We have put in many weary nights and days in an effort to give you a book which could really be called "Everybody's Razorback" and one which would surpass all others. If we had to do it over again we would put out a better book. However, our work is done; our ink is dry; and you hold in your hands the fruits of our nightly vigils. Let not your criticism be too harsh.
